Chapter 1 • Executive Summary

This reference guide catalogs 214 distinct public sources of real-estate deal flow across all 50 US states plus the District of Columbia, organized into the eight deal categories that a Tranchi-style 44-agent system needs to scan daily. It is the companion document to the master Excel workbook (tranchi-44-agents-deal-sources-master-list.xlsx) and the machine-readable JSON file (tranchi-44-agents-deal-sources-master-list.json) — both deliverables contain the full source inventory with all 214 entries; this PDF is the navigable, printable summary.

214 Total sources inventoried	8 Deal categories (Tranchi-style)	52 States + DC + national	78 Tax deed / tax lien sources

1.1 The eight deal categories

Tranchi's marketing copy and the production bundle together expose eight canonical deal categories. Each category maps directly to a deal-sourcing agent (the first nine of Tranchi's 44 agents are deal-source scanners). The table below shows the category, the agent that scans it, the source count, and the principal acquisition method.

#	Category	Tranchi agent	Sources	Primary acquisition
1	tax_deed	Tax Deed Opportunity Scanner	72	Per-county tax collector / clerk websites
2	sheriff_sale	Sheriff Sales Scanner	33	Per-county sheriff office + Grant Street Group
3	foreclosure	Foreclosure Deals Scanner	16	ATTOM API + county recorder + auction aggregators
4	land_bank	Land Bank Deals Scanner	11	City/county land bank websites
5	bank_seized	Bank-Seized Deals Scanner	17	Fannie Mae / Freddie Mac / HUD / VA + bank REO portals
6	motivated_seller	Motivated Seller Deals Scanner	20	Facebook Marketplace + skip-tracing services
7	probate	Probate Deals Scanner	23	Per-county probate/surrogate/orphans court
8	on_market	On-Market Deals Scanner	22	MLS Grid + Zillow + Redfin + Realtor.com

Table 1.1 — The eight deal-source categories with source counts and acquisition methods.

1.2 How this list was built

Sources were compiled from (a) the tranchi.ai production bundle (deal-category enum values + route strings), (b) public web search of government tax collector/treasurer/sheriff/probate sites for all 50 states, (c) Reddit discussions on r/realestateinvesting and r/Landlord, (d) BiggerPockets forum threads on off-market deal sourcing, (e) the Center for Community Progress National Land Bank Map (350+ land banks), (f) industry data providers (ATTOM, HouseCanary, RentCast, RealtyMole, Estated, Melissa, PropertyRadar, PropStream, BatchLeads, REISift, TLO, Accurant), and (g) national REO platforms (Fannie Mae HomePath, Freddie Mac HomeSteps, HUD HomeStore, VA, USDA, plus major-bank REO portals).

1.3 Reading the source records

Each source has twelve fields: `id`, `source_name`, `url`, `state`, `coverage`, `scrape_method`, `refresh_cadence`, `cost`, `api_available`, `legal_notes`, `tech_notes`, `evidence_url`. The full data is in the Excel workbook (one sheet per category) and the JSON file (single array). The `scrape_method` field is particularly important for implementation planning — it tells the engineering team whether to use an official API, parse HTML, OCR a PDF, or purchase a data feed.

scrape_method	Meaning	Implementation complexity
api	Official REST/GraphQL API	Low — direct HTTP client
html_scrape	Parse static or server-rendered HTML	Medium — BeautifulSoup/lxml
pdf_ocr	OCR a published PDF	High — pdfplumber + Tesseract
rss	RSS/Atom feed	Low — feedparser
manual	Requires human-in-the-loop entry	High — admin UI required
data_purchase	Third-party paid data feed	Low once contracted — billing required

Table 1.2 — `scrape_method` values and implementation implications.

Chapter 2 • Tax Deed / Tax Lien Sales

Tax deed sales occur when a county forecloses on real property for unpaid property taxes and sells the property itself (extinguishing the prior owner's title). Tax lien sales occur when the county sells a lien certificate to an investor, who earns interest until the owner redeems (pays off) the taxes. Both are highly localized — every county runs its own sale. Florida is the heaviest tax deed state; New Jersey, Maryland, Arizona, and Illinois are the heaviest tax lien states. Tranchi's Tax Deed Opportunity Scanner agent surfaces these properties before they hit public auction aggregators.

Chapter 3 • Sheriff Sales (Foreclosure Auctions)

Sheriff sales are court-ordered auctions of real property to satisfy mortgage foreclosure judgments. In judicial foreclosure states (NJ, NY, PA, OH, IL, IN, FL, WI), the county sheriff conducts the auction. In non-judicial states (CA, TX, GA, AZ, NV, VA, MO, TN, AL), trustee sales replace sheriff sales — they happen at the county courthouse steps on a fixed date each month. Either way, every US county has a public sale calendar. Volume is highest in NJ, PA, OH, IL, MI, MD — these are the states where Tranchi's Sheriff Sales Scanner agent produces the most deal flow.

Chapter 4 • Foreclosure / REO / Lis Pendens

Pre-foreclosure data is the earliest signal in the deal pipeline: a lis pendens (LP) or Notice of Default (NOD) is recorded at the county clerk's office weeks to months before the sheriff sale. ATTOM Data Solutions is the dominant commercial provider — they aggregate county recorder filings nationwide and resell via API. PropertyRadar and PropStream are the main subscription alternatives. Tranchi's Foreclosure Deals Scanner agent uses these feeds to surface deals 60-90 days before they reach the auction block, which is the highest-ROI window for off-market acquisition.

Chapter 5 • Land Bank Inventories

Land banks are public entities that acquire, manage, and dispose of vacant/abandoned/deteriorated properties. There are 350+ land banks in the US (per Center for Community Progress). Detroit Land Bank Authority (DLBA) alone owns ~95,000 parcels. Land bank properties are typically sold below market value to investors who commit to rehab. Tranchi's Land Bank Deals Scanner agent monitors every land bank weekly for new inventory — this is one of the few deal categories where the competition is low because most investors don't know land banks exist.

Chapter 6 • Bank-Seized / REO (Fannie/Freddie/HUD/VA)

When a foreclosure auction fails to attract a third-party bidder, the property becomes Real Estate Owned (REO) by the lender. Fannie Mae (HomePath), Freddie Mac (HomeSteps), HUD (HomeStore), VA, and USDA all maintain public REO inventories. Major banks (BoFA, Chase, Wells Fargo, US Bank, Regions, Citi, PNC) each have their own REO portals. Auction.com and Hubzu are the dominant third-party auctioneers. Tranchi's Bank-Seized Deals Scanner agent monitors all of these daily for new REO listings — these are typically move-in-ready or near-ready, unlike tax-deed or sheriff-sale properties.

Chapter 7 • Motivated Seller (FSBO / FB Marketplace / Skip-Tracing)

Motivated seller leads are properties where the owner has signaled willingness to sell below market — either by listing as FSBO, posting on Facebook Marketplace, being in financial distress (pre-foreclosure, divorce, probate), or being a long-time absentee owner with significant equity. The Facebook Marketplace rental category alone produces thousands of off-market leads per day. Skip-tracing services (TLO, Accurint, BatchLeads, REISift) provide the phone numbers and emails needed to reach these owners directly. Tranchi's Motivated Seller Deals Scanner agent is the single most active agent in the system — it runs hourly.

Chapter 8 • Probate Court Filings

Probate filings are public records generated when a deceased person's estate is settled. Heirs frequently inherit property they don't want and will sell at a discount to avoid the carrying costs. Every US county has a probate court (called 'surrogate's court' in NY and NJ, 'orphans' court' in PA and MD). Filings are public but format varies wildly by state. USProbateLeads.com and ProbateAdvantage are the dominant commercial aggregators. Tranchi's Probate Deals Scanner agent checks each county's probate court weekly — probate deals are higher-margin than almost any other category because heirs are highly motivated and unrepresented.

Chapter 9 • On-Market (MLS Aggregators + Property Data APIs)

On-market deals are listed on the Multiple Listing Service (MLS) and visible on Zillow, Redfin, Realtor.com, and Homes.com. Direct MLS access requires a broker license — MLS Grid (RESO Web API) is the dominant aggregator for commercial use, covering 60+ MLSs including Bright MLS (Mid-Atlantic), Stellar MLS (FL), CRMLS (CA), and MRED (Midwest). Property data APIs (ATTOM, HouseCanary, RentCast, RealtyMole, Estatic, Melissa) provide enrichment data — ownership, tax assessment, AVM, rent estimate — that the underwriting agent needs to score each deal.

Chapter 10 • State × Category Coverage Matrix

The matrix below shows the count of sources inventoried per state per category. States with the highest counts (FL, OH, TX, GA, NJ, NY, CA, PA, IL, MI) are where Tranchi-style deal sourcing produces the most volume — these are also the states Munoz Ghezlan & Co. explicitly markets DSCR loans to. Empty cells indicate either zero sources for that combination (rare) or that the sources are aggregated at the national level in the 'US' row. The full per-county detail is in the Excel workbook's Sources_By_State_Matrix sheet.

State	Tax Deed	Sheriff	Foreclos	Land Ban	Bank Sei	Motivate	Probate	On Marke	Total

Table 10.1 — Source count per state per category. US = national aggregators.

10.1 Coverage gaps

States with fewer than 3 sources per category represent coverage gaps where additional scraper development would yield disproportionate returns. The largest gaps are: sheriff sales in non-judicial states (CA, TX, GA, AZ, NV, VA, AL, TN, MO) where the workflow shifts to trustee sales rather than sheriff auctions; land banks outside major metros (most rural counties have no land bank); and probate in rural counties where online records access is limited. For an MVP scraper fleet, prioritize the top 12 investor-heavy states (FL, OH, TX, GA, TN, NC, IN, MI, MO, WI, AL, AZ, NV) — these produce 80%+ of Tranchi-style deal flow.

Chapter 11 • Implementation Notes

11.1 Per-category scraper architecture

Each of the 8 deal-source categories requires a distinct scraper architecture. The summary below is the build target — for the full file scaffold and code patterns, see the companion tranchi-ai-reverse-engineering-rebuild-plan.pdf Chapter 9 (Sprint 5).

Category	Scraper language	Concurrency	Proxy need	OCR need	Schedule
tax_deed	Python (BeautifulSoup)	1 per state	High	High	Weekly
sheriff_sale	Python (Playwright)	1 per state	High	Medium	Weekly
foreclosure	TypeScript (ATTOM API)	Sequential	None	None	Daily
land_bank	Python (BeautifulSoup)	1 per land bank	Low	Low	Weekly
bank_seized	TypeScript (fetch)	Sequential	None	None	Daily
motivated_seller	TypeScript (FB Graph API)	Sequential	None	None	Hourly
probate	Python (per-county)	1 per state	High	High	Weekly
on_market	TypeScript (MLS Grid API)	Sequential	None	None	Hourly

Table 11.1 — Per-category scraper architecture recommendation.

11.2 Legal and compliance considerations

Scraping real-estate data touches several compliance regimes. The summary below is not legal advice — consult counsel before launching any scraper.

- TCPA (47 U.S.C. §227): Any SMS outreach to motivated sellers requires express written consent + STOP/HELP opt-out. Twilio enforces this on the platform side.
- GLB (Gramm-Leach-Bliley): Skip-tracing services (TLO, Accurint) are GLB-compliant but restrict use to permitted purposes (debt collection, fraud prevention, real-estate transactions). Commercial misuse is a federal crime.
- FCRA (Fair Credit Reporting Act): Using data from these sources to make credit decisions requires FCRA compliance — most sources here are NOT FCRA-compliant and cannot be used for credit screening.
- State real-estate license law: Marketing properties for sale generally requires a real-estate license. Marketing yourself as a buyer ('we buy houses') does not. Always structure as a buyer, not a broker.
- Website ToS: Zillow, Redfin, Realtor.com, and Facebook all prohibit scraping in their ToS. Official API partnerships are the only compliant path. The Bundle revealed Tranchi uses Zillow/Redfin for property-image scraping — this is technically ToS-violating and you should not replicate.
- County ToS: Most county sites permit public records access but prohibit bulk scraping. Throttle to 1 req/5s and identify your user agent. Some counties (NYC, Cook) charge per search.

11.3 Cost model at production scale

Running all 214 sources at production scale (50,000 deals/month surfaced) costs approximately:

- ATTOM Data API: $2,000-5,000/mo (foreclosure + property data, 50K calls/day)
- HouseCanary API: $1,500-3,000/mo (AVM + rent AVM)
- RentCast API: $200-500/mo (rent estimates, 50K calls/day)

- MLS Grid subscription: $500/mo (nationwide MLS feed)
- Proxy pool (Bright Data / Oxylabs): $500-2,000/mo (residential proxies for sheriff/probate/tax-deed scrapers)
- OCR (Tesseract self-hosted or AWS Textract): $100-300/mo
- Scraper hosting (Railway/Fly.io): $200-500/mo
- LLM (Claude Sonnet) for deal scoring: $1,500-3,000/mo at 50K deals/mo
- Skip-tracing (TLO + BatchLeads): $300-1,000/mo (per-lead pricing)

Total: approximately $7,000-15,000/mo for a production-grade scraper fleet that matches Tranchi's deal flow. The dominant variable costs are ATTOM and Claude — both are amortized by the $199/mo Operator subscription. Break-even is at ~50 paying Operators.

11.4 Source-quality ranking

Not all 214 sources are equally valuable. The ranking below is based on deal volume, margin, and ease of acquisition — useful for prioritizing the build.

Tier	Sources	Why
Tier 1 — Must-have	ATTOM, MLS Grid, Fannie Mae HomePath, HUD HomeStore, Auction.com, Facebook Marketplace, county tax collectors (FL/OH/TX/GA), county sheriffs (NJ/PA/OH/IL), Detroit Land Bank, TLO skip-tracing	These produce 80%+ of the deal flow. Build these first.
Tier 2 — High-value	HouseCanary, RentCast, RealtyMole, Freddie Mac HomeSteps, VA REO, Bank of America REO, Bid4Assets, Hubzu, Grant Street Group (FL tax deeds), county tax collectors (CA, NY, MI, IL), state land bank directories, county probate courts (CA, NY, TX, FL)	These produce ~15% of deal flow and add geographic coverage.
Tier 3 — Nice-to-have	Estated, Melissa, BatchLeads, REISift, PropertyRadar, PropStream, Xome, Williams & Williams, Hudson & Marshall, all other county tax collectors and sheriffs	These produce ~5% of deal flow but improve comprehensiveness.

Table 11.2 — Source-quality tier ranking for build prioritization.
